Heartiest congratulations to the Seniors of '61. You are enjoying one of the big moments of your lives.

We join our best wishes with Cameron and Milam business concerns who thoughtfully have co-operated with The Herald in making possible the fifth annual Graduation Section in last week's edition.

There is a genuine and justified feeling of accomplishment in completing your high school education. It, of course, is a beginning, not the end of learning, as young citizens of the 1960's are well aware.

If there was hard work and lots of fun in completing 12 years of education, there is more work and more fun in stepping into the adult community. There is little need to cite the problems of the future; they are many. But there is much fun in the days ahead, if you keep a sense of humor and find a goal for youthful energies and ambitions. Probably the most difficult task is finding that goal.

They are good on shelves and to make bond fires. They also do good under a baby-s place and to keep dogs offa things. You can wrap potato peels in 'em. You can use one when you defrost. They tell about shows and how much things are."

Lions Hear Bates Discuss Weight Training Program

Yoe High School Head Coach Billy Bates presented the program of weight lifting to the Lions Club's regular meeting Monday.

Bates, with the help of Thomas Leonard, Ernest Bayer and Bobby Hillman, demonstrated the training program. This systematic training plan was started in January of this school year and has produced excellent results.

The average weight gained among the high school boys taking part in the weight lifting program has been 12 pounds. This program increases the athletes strength, weight and performance.

In closing Bates said weight training makes boys stronger and healthier while helping to reduce injuries caused by contact sports.

Seventy Texas counties -- metropolitan Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio leading -- carried Republican John Tower into the Senate seat by 8,000 votes, about 445,000 for Tower and 437,000 for Blakley. He is Texas first Republican Senator since 1870.

One precinct in Milam County went for Tower, Precinct No. 16 in Rockdale, by two votes, 140 to 138. The same precinct favored Tower 112 to Blakley's 86 in April but about 100 votes were divided between Maurey Maverick and Jim Wright then.

Cameron voting favored Blakley, Cameron No. 1 went 128 to 51 for Blakley while Cameron No. 2 polled 197 votes for Blakley and 128 for Tower.

Three Accidents: 8 Injured, No Dead

Accidents at a one - a - day clip kept state patrolmen busy the first three days this week.

Six people in one car all suffered injuries when it turned over about 4 a. m. Wednesday a mile north of Davilla on the Val Verde gravel road.

Injured were driver Joe Malino Quintero, 20, of Rogers; his wife Janie Quintero; infant son Joe Raymond; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Salazar and a sixth passenger, Bobby Joe Gentile, 17.

Trooper Jack Straley said all six people were taken to Scott & White Hospital in Temple where five were treated for cuts and bruises and released. Gentile suffered a broken collarbone and broken nose and remained in the hospital for treatment.

About 9 a. m. Tuesday a 1953 Chevrolet driven by Pedro Floris, of Los Cruces, N. M., collided with the rear of a 1956 stationwagon driven by William "Doc" Markham of Cameron, Straley said.

Floris, passenger, Rosie Floris, 22, his daughter, suffered a broken jaw. They received treatment at Newton Hospital.

Markham was treated at St. Edwards Hospital for bruises and cuts.

The collision occurred six miles south of Cameron on SH 36, Straley said. Both vehicles were going south.

And 9 a. m. Monday, a stalled car was struck and demolished by a Missouri - Pacific freight train at a rail crossing five miles out of Rockdale.

Mrs. Katherine Murray, 76, of Rt. 2, Rockdale, fled from her 1950 Ford when it stalled and she looked up to see the oncoming freight.

She was alone when the collision occurred, Straley said.

Driversified Cameron Courses

Summer School Opens Monday For Three Groups

Three special summer school courses will get underway Monday in the Cameron Schools, Supt. Earl Knebel announced this week.

They are a driver education class, a pre-school program for non-English speaking children, and a special summer school course for high school students, including students from other districts.

Driver's education courses will begin 8 a. m. Monday for a two-week period, Dr. Knebel said.

The class will meet in Yoe High School. Two 90-minute periods of instruction will be held Monday and behind-the-wheel driving training will begin June 12, continuing through June and July. A $35 tuition fee is charged for each student, 14 years or older.

Coach Jack Larimore will teach the course and Burkes - Howard Chevrolet will furnish a dual-control driver education car.

A special school for pre-school non-English speaking students will be conducted by Rosebud and Cameron. A school bus will carry Cameron children to Rosebud where Mrs. Ellen Malcik, special instructor, will conduct classes.

Supt. Knebel said a school bus is scheduled to pick up children at 7:45 a. m., then stop for others at Matyastik's Gin, the Cameron Housing Project before proceeding to Rosebud School. The pre-first graders will be dismissed at 11:30 a. m. and brought back to Cameron by bus.

Following Cameron School Board conduct a special summer school approval, school officials will course for interested high school students.

Prospective students may enroll Thursday or Friday with YHS Principal Jerald Underwood or Ben Milam Principal Max McClaren. High School students of other districts are welcome, the principal said.

Tuition will be $17.50 for a semester course. And Supt. Knebel said that about 15 students are needed to justify a course of any subject.

If offered, the one course will be taught in 20 four-hour morning sessions during the June 5 - June 30 period. And another course would be offered July 10 - August 11, Knebel announced.

Rains Range Area As City Gets Touch

Construction Still Underway At City Sites This Week

Construction continued at several Cameron sites this week.

Workmen were installing new front and entranceway facilities on Duke & Ayres store as the six week front and interior remodeling project went into its second week, manager Bill Nolan said.

The variety store plans to build new fixtures for the store, he said. Workmen were also constructing a front canopy at mid-week.

Workmen also were putting final touches on the columns and spire of the colonial-style First Baptist Church sanctuary prior to installation interior fixtures for choir and pulpit area and seating.

Construction was also continuing at Newton Memorial Hospital where workmen were clearing the driveway and parking area for paving, and working on interior construction features.

Burke's Variety Store also completed a new aluminum front trimmed in gray this week after removing metal trim and modernizing the top of the building front.

And Milam Theatre was due to get new seating in the auditorium area.

Ted Kuehl's Barbershop had a newly painted front to match new metal canopies over the entrance ways.

Jury Trial Monday For Shuffield Case

A Milam District petit jury will be selected 9 a.m. Monday to hear the trial of Hubert W. Shuffield, 66, of Cameron, charged with murder with malice.

Shuffield is charged with murder in the shooting death of Jesse Kirk, Jr., 44, who was found shot to death the morning of April 14 in a small cafe owned by Shuffield on North Travis.

Shuffield entered a plea of not guilty to the charge in arraignment proceedings May 8 in Milam District Court. District Judge W. C. Wallace appointed Charlie Smith, Jr., Cameron attorney, and Edgar Hoppe, Rockdale lawyer, to defend Shuffield.

Shuffield has been free on $10,000 bond since being charged with murder with malice in Cameron Justice Court April 14. A Milam grand jury indicted Hubert Shuffield April 25, but "no billed" his son, Eual Shuffield, 37, also of Cameron. Eual Shuffield had been charged April 14 along with his father after a preliminary investigation of Kirk's death.

Kirk was found shot three times with a 22-cal. pistol.

Judge Wallace will preside at the Shuffield trial proceedings.

District-Atty. Jack Prescott said he was completing the State's case this week for the Monday trial date.

Two Plead Guilty, Draw Prison Terms

Sheriff Carl Black this week took Obie Mack, 30, Rockdale Negro, and Gilbert Cook, about 50, Negro, to Huntsville State Penitentiary after both men were found guilty of felony offenses Friday in Milam District Court.

Mack will begin a three-year sentence upon conviction of assault without malice on J. M. Tuma, Rockdale policeman. It will run concurrently with a three-year sentence prescribed by a Milam District petit jury in April upon Mack's conviction of assaulting without malice John C. Hirt, Rockdale service station operator.

Cook entered a plea of guilty to burglarizing the G. H. Beard residence, south of Milano. He received a two-year sentence in Huntsville.

District Judge W. C. Wallace presided at both trials before a small crowd Friday morning. Both cases were tried without jury.

Following Mack's plea of guilty to the assault on Tuma, Dist. Atty. Jack Prescott called on Rockdale Constable Ollie Cook who arrested Mack September 17 at Mack's Rockdale residence.

Cook testified that Mack fired a shotgun blast that hit his car, then later fired a blast that hit Tuma in the abdomen. He said he (Cook) and Tuma were attempting to arrest Mack. Tuma testified that he was struck by a shotgun blast fired by Mack. Defense attorney John Henderson called no witnesses. He asked for the mercy of the court for Mack, who, he said, had not been convicted nor served time for such an offense in the past.

Judge Wallace returned a verdict of guilty of assault without malice with intent to murder and prescribed the three-year sentence.

Gilbert Cook also entered a plea of guilty to a charge of burglary. Sheriff Black testified that Gilbert Cook had sold some of the stolen property taken from the Beard farm residence to a junk dealer and that the property had been returned.

Henderson asked Black if Gilbert Cook had any previous record to his knowledge in Milam County. Black said he knew of a case pending in Rockdale justice court against Gilbert Cook, but that insufficient evidence had left the charge untried.

Henderson asked that three weeks credit on the two-year sentence be given Gilbert Cook since he had served that much time in Milam County Jail. Judge Wallace approved the request, overruling an objection of the prosecution.

Crop Picture Mixed Following 1st May Rainfall

General rains worked their way around the immediate Cameron area last weekend as Cameron drew a meager .2 of an inch Thursday and Friday.

But rains up to 2 inches fell north of Cameron in the Ben Arnold - Vagelsang area and signs of general rain were apparent west of the Buckholts area into Williamson and Bell Counties.

Heavy rains centered in the Marlin - Hearne area to the north. In South Milam around Rockdale and Thorndale precipitation fell.

But it was the first rain of any kind in the Cameron area since early April, the month which was termed driest in the past 60 years throughout Texas.

County Agent J. D. Moore said feed crops were saved from major losses by the weekend rains around the county. Feed crops could not have survived the hot June weather without the rains.

He went on to estimate that corn crops in Milam County will be reduced by 35 to 50 percent because of lack of moisture during April and May.

On the other hand, cotton, though much of it is unplanted, should be a profitable crop this year, he said. He noted that much cotton is being planted late, but its ability to grow in dry weather will carry it to a profitable year barring adverse conditions.

Grass for cattle is late because of the two-month lack of moisture, he said. He cited a cut of as much as 50 per cent in potential hay crops due to limited moisture and heavy grasshopper infestation.

Cameron drew .17 of an inch of rain last Thursday and .03 of an inch of rain Friday, according to the City Weatherman.

Temperatures ranged from a high of 91 to a low of 51.

WEATHER NOTES

Temperatures for the past week have ranged from a high of 91 degrees to a low of 51 in the city. The 25th saw .17 inch of rain fall and the 28th, .03 of an inch.

Leon Ernst Taken
To Galveston
For Treatment

By Mrs. J. A. Blasienz

Leon Ernst Jr. has been taken to a Galveston hospital for further treatment for severe burns which he received recently in the explosion of a butane gas tank. He is reported improved.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Skala and Lillie Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ernst of Barclay, and their guests Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spragins and sons of Warren Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Miller and daughters of Burlington were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rohring Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Skala made a business trip to Temple Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Hawk and children were in Cameron last Sunday for the celebration of his mother, Mrs. Joe Hawks, birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Wilson, Suzanne and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Blasienz of Bryan visited Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Blasienz during the past week.

This area received from 1 to 2 inches of rain in a thunder storm Thursday afternoon. There were strong winds which partly unroofed the O. S. Collins home, blew down small trees and sheds. The farmers are rejoicing over the good rain.

Miss Inez Dodd spent the past week end with her mother Mrs. V. D. Dodd.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harrison and Billy Jack were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Burnett of Jones Prairie Friday night.

Exchange Lives For Tractors?

What is the value of a human life? More appropos: What is the value of 1,200 lives?

Response to such questions of moral and national conscience have welled into the second major controversy in two months over Castro's Cuba.

He has offered to exchange 1,200 captive invaders of the ill-fated Cuban Revolution for five hundred $40,000 tractors (or bulldozers). The move has hit the U. S. like a massive hydrogen assault.

President Kennedy chooses to give unofficial sanction to a movement to meet the ransom. UAW President Walter Reuther heads a national citizens group appealing for the $20 million to make the exchange.

Idealism has its place in our society. Americans believe the saving of a human life is worth any effort.

But what of the lives of 180 million Americans and Cubans? Can we exchange tractors, also useful for construction work, for 1,200 men in the naive belief that they (the tractors) will be used for agriculture alone? Can we condone a cynical precedent with a regime that has destroyed the valuable precedent of the Monroe Doctrine? Can we presume humanitarian purposes are to displace, even for a moment, the insidious design of Castro and Kremlin Communism in the Western Hemisphere?

Further: Can we heap prospective debacle on a debacle complete? Shall we play world opinion on a Communist piano, hoping for virtuosity and realizing only a game of musical chairs?

American reaction is mixed - disgust, disdain, belief.

There are no assurances of recovering all of these 1,200 men, volunteers at that, with exchange of tractors and five-year guarantees on their efficiency. What if Castro turns over 1,100 men and keeps 100, as he intimates he will, to assure the bargain? What are those captives' lives worth?

We cannot put a price on human life. We can only compare the obvious, inescapable danger of a growing Communist Cuban state and the necessity of protecting these United States and Western Culture.

What of the ultimate consequences of acquiescing to dictatorship? Is it not clear that "blackmail" as Castro demands it would become national heritage if we play this game.

Precedents to follow would be many: extortion at the whim of Communist puppet minds; vilification abroad whether or not we co-operate; charges of cynicism against a nation of immense naivety in world politics.

Communist China and Russia have held American Nationals and Europeans prisoner for years, refusing, with few exceptions, to free them. By this token, Communists use people as pawns wherever or whenever they may be.

Out of this nation's largest, $20 million is a pittance. Similarly, a cancer in its early stages is small and removable from a body politic. One does not pay a cancer to go away. One removes it. Only in the final, terminal stages of disease does one trade money for time.

If this nation finds itself at the terminal stage of its development, we should recognize this offer not as private citizens, but as a nation. If we hold humanitarianism as a nation with purpose and Christian destiny, we must value these men's lives only on their intrinsic human worth, not in material exchange. There is no middle ground. Men are not unthinking chattels. They are able to determine the risks of battle, even if the United States assisted in the invasion debacle. If the cause is freedom, the price is beyond exchange. Their cause has come down to them in bloody legends of millions before them.

Can we be so cruel to send these men into Cuba, then leave them there when they possibly can be saved? That choice, we believe, was made when the invasion was planned. To barter tractors for men is to demean the cause of freedom and Western Culture, American dignity withstanding.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Matocha and two granddaughters, Beckie and Annie spent Monday in Austin visiting their daughter Sister Amilene and son Father Edward Matocha.

When a newspaper was a thing to be marveled at—for memories of the Press' fight for freedom were fresh in mind. Although newspapers are common in our country today, their existence should not be taken for granted. It is a wonderful fact that almost all of our modern communities have their own hometown newspapers, freely edited by members of their own communities—spreading the news, stimulating the business of the community, and keeping their readers informed of important events elsewhere. 57th Session Is Like All Others

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Final week of the Legislature's 57th regular session was like most — with minor bills tumbling out in an avalanche and major bills tied up in conference committee.

Under now - or - never pressure, lawmakers searched desperately for compromises, but found their differences deep and hard to bridge.

Small loan regulation - stickiest of many sticky problems - bogged down in the Senate State Affairs Committee. It was an issue on which feelings seemed to run stronger and divisions deeper as time went on.

But many other bills 'made it' or appeared to have, by receiving final passage in both houses as the session drew to a close. Among them were bills that would:

Outlaw selling liquor by the drink under the "front" of a private club and provide for licensing and regulation of bona fide private clubs by the State Liquor Control Board.

Pay members of the State Board of Insurance annual salaries, not to exceed $20,000 instead of the present $50 or each working day. Salaries were pegged at $16,000 in the appropriations bill.

Regulate importation of milk from other states. Result here did not make milk producers happy. It would allow milk to be imported into Texas if an inspector from the producing state certified its purity. Texas producers sought a bill requiring certification by a Texas inspector.

Make an emergency allocation of $650,000 to the Department of Corrections, hard hit financially by overflow prison populations and crop failures on prison farms.

Back Pay Pondered
Members of the Legislature are constitutionally entitled to receive $400 a month salaries dating back to November 25, 1960, according to an attorney general's opinion.

But whether to accept this money is a question of another sort. November 25 was the effective date of a constitutional amendment authorizing $4,800 a year salaries for legislators. Amendment was not put into effect until the Legislature met January 10 and voted a salary appropriation.

House had its payroll start January 1; Senate's started January 10. Two House members have since refunded to the state $116 each, an amount covering the period from January 1-10 when the Legislature wasn't in session.

Mist members have indicated ruling or no ruling, they have no intention of trying to get pay dating back to November 25 -- when some weren't even in office.

UH Bill Finally Passed

Mammoth University of Houston will become the 20th member of the state-supported college system in September, 1963, if Governor Daniel signs the bill passed by both houses.

Bill was hard fought by those who felt the state already has more state college than it can take care of. It was filibustered for a month in the Senate and had to pass the House twice. It made it through the last round in the House with a bit of help from Speaker James Turman -- who held up announcing the vote until enough members had changed their minds to put the bill through.

Safety Bills Pushed

In the waning days of the Legislature, Governor Daniel made a strong plea for highway safety legislation.

Few Headlines Made In House

This has been a week full of hard work but one which has produced few headlines from the House. The Agriculture Committee this morning finished its public Administration Farm Bill -- and this morning finished its public hearings. Now we begin the even harder task of revising and re-writing. As is always the case with a far-reaching bill of this kind, we will probably need to completely rewrite many sections -- some of them several times. This is all going to take time -- more time than we care to spend -- but unless we do so, I feel that we may well be confronted with a continuation of the present accumulation of unneeded surpluses and an ultimate breakdown of all efforts to hold up farm income.

In the final analysis the question is, do we want unlimited production with no supports, or do we want higher prices in return for controlling production? I think Agriculture better go along with the oil industry, with all forms of public transportation, with organized labor, with State and National Banks and all other groups who see to it that the supply of their commodity or service does not exceed demand.

On yesterday the President appeared before the Congress and asked for a greatly stepped-up program of defense and space exploration. I believe that Congress will go along with his requests. Indeed the day before, the House had voted a great increase in the funds authorized for these purposes. I voted for the increase, as I think it is clear that we must try to keep in "hollering distance" of the Soviets.

I fear that as a people we have never realized that most of the people of the world still understand and respect nothing so clearly as power. The U. S. must remain powerful. Next, we must let all people understand that we stay with our friends. Recently we have given cause for many people to wonder if it really pays to be a friend of the U. S. They have seen us try to say what kind of governments our friends should have. We helped Castro overthrow Batista -- not because Batista was anti-American or pro-Communist, but simply because he didn't hold the kind of elections we thought he should. Now Castro says there will never be any more elections in Cuba. Now we are faced with the question of opposing a pro-American government in Korea. I would like to have democracies everywhere, but it seems to me to be more of our business whether a government is friendly to America than it is of how they conduct their domestic affairs.

HOG ATTENTION

Hog producers should pay attention to details which insure the health of their swine herd instead of depending upon a "wonder drug" when illness strikes.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Admits Watching Television All Day May Be Boring, But Plowing Is Also

Dear editor:

I was reading a newspaper last night while my wife was watching television, you can say this for television, it's easier to read while it's going on than while your wife is, I mean, whatever faults television has it sure cuts down on the conversation; at any rate, what I was reading was an article by the new chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, the outfit that's supposed to supervise the airways.

According to Chairman Minow, television has got to get better if it's to stay on the air. He said if you want to find out how bad television is, "sit down in front of your set when your station comes on in the morning and stay there until it signs off that night." He said you'd see a procession of junk, violence, silliness and commercials, with only a few things you'll enjoy and most of all, he added, "boredom."

Now I'm no authority on television, but I'm not sure watching the thing fourteen hours in a stretch and complaining because you came out bored, is any real test. I have a notion if Chairman Minow will get on my tractor, glue himself to the seat, bend his hand over, and watch the rows fourteen hours a day while he goes up one and down another, he'll get off extremely bored, not to mention other things.

As for violence on television, I'll admit it's bad, but saying it'll have to be eliminated if TV is to stay on the air is like saying crime stories will have to be eliminated from newspapers if they're to stay in business. It's like saying violence will have to be eliminated from history books if they're to be read. It's like saying Shakespeare would have been an enduring success if he had cut out all them suicides and stabbings and swordplay.

Understand, I'm not in favor of violence. For one thing, it takes more energy than I'm interested in spending, but on television, when an outlaw gets shot, even the kids know it's only acting, the bullets are fakes and the same characters will get shot again next week, but with the Federal Communications Commission will run into trouble is when it tries to convince the kids only fake bullets are used in war.

Television can continue its violence and stay on the air, but can man continue his and stay on the earth? I could give you the answer, but excuse me, Wagon Train is coming on, just as soon as the newscast about the violence in the Congo goes off.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

Many Americans, who go abroad, come back with criticism of the ways of the inhabitants of the countries they visited. Just because they do something different from the way we do does not necessarily prove that they are backward, unprogressive, unenlightened.

For example in France (I understand) they eat four times a day and in Germany, five. (Not all of the repasts are full-ledged meals). Why should we consider that our three - meals - a - day procedure is sacred? (In fact, we have conceded that by adopting the twice - a - day so-called "coffee break" which often includes two biscuits with gravy and a couple of link sausages.)

In France (I believe) they speak of 13 o'clock and so on to 24 o'clock -- which eliminates the confusion that a. m. and p. m. can sometimes cause.

In Latin American countries, they take a nap after the noon meal; and live longer.

Why, a friend of mine came back from the British Isles a good many years ago and when I asked what he thought about the English people, replied, "They drive on the left - hand side of the street - so that tells you."

He thought that it was almost blasphemous not to drive on the right - hand side.

Since then, our cities have put in one - way streets and we drive on the left side, right side and all over the street. What would he say that makes us?

Will Rogers said, after he had observed the dress and had heard the loud comments of numerous tourists, "The best Americans are the ones who stay at home." Of course, he was only kidding and so am I.

When I studied American history, we were taught that Andrew Jackson's forces fought behind cotton bales in the battle of New Orleans. (Incidentally, in New Orleans they call the battle Chalmette.)

In reading a few years ago about the battle, I learned that the cotton - bale idea wasn't such a good one -- that the British bullets set the cotton on fire and so much smoke resulted that the marksmanship of the Tennessee and Kentucky riflemen was interfered with to such an extent that they had to change position. But no doubt each succeeding generation will have imprinted on their minds, in the seventh grade, to go through life, the picture of the Americans fighting behind the barricade of cotton bales.

Bates Is Satisfied With Attitudes

By Robert Mann
Billy Bates is a happy man! The stocky twenty-eight year old Yoemen head athletic coach is happy, not because of the Yoemen's 6-4 won - lost record posted by the gridiron squad six months ago; not because the future is looking bright for him; and because he will go down in a book with the best of Yoemen coaches. He's happy because he's satisfied. Satisfied with the attitude of the high school students he directed this year. He is happy and full of praise for the Cameron school system's administration and the excellent way in which he was allowed to conduct his athletic program.

"I have enjoyed this year more than any other in my short coaching career, and I've enjoyed working with these boys and would be proud to have any of them back again next year as freshmen," he said in a serious manner.

In the fall Bates was faced with a he-man job of straightening out Cameron's athletic program, building a successful football team, and gaining respect of the schools so-called bad boy athletes as well as every youngster in the school; not only on the athletic field, but also in the classroom. In ten months Bates has done all this and more.

His most recent project that has met with success is his weightlifting program. During the summer he plans to continue his next year's gridironers on the weights working with them two nights a week.

Bates was told there were certain boys he couldn't keep out for football and if he did they would mean nothing but trouble.

These "badboys" not only stayed out, but were the main reasons for the successful season.

Bates added, "I have only had to make two or three serious corrections concerning the boys all year long, where at George West I was whipping someone all the time."

"I have at no time tolerated a low moral behavior of any boy I'm coaching and I never will. I think that the boys I coached this year kept strict training rules during the season and if there was any bally - hoo going on it was kept so quiet that it wasn't enough to do any harm."

The 1961 gridiron season will be similar to many in the past where a lot will depend on the development of youngsters that haven't had much experience, however this year there are more to choose from and the boys are bigger. Nineteen freshmen alone have signed up for fall workouts. Yes, Billy Bates is a happy man and satisfied one. We believe that the people of Cameron are happy and equally satisfied with Billy Bates.

Paul Hoelscher Plans To Coach

Paul Hoelscher, 1957 Yoe graduate, related to us in his easy ambling way last Monday his future plans for completing Sul Ross College, Alpine, where he will play tackle next year. He then plans to coach, preferably in Central Texas.

In a casual manner, he talked of his four years as a Yoe High student, his future marriage and modestly mentioned his ranking as an honorable mention Little All-American tackle last year at Victoria Jr. College.

Hoelscher is remembered well by Yoemen fans as a 200 pound guard that played football with Monroe Bayer, Guy Dillon and other Yoe guests.

Paul, now standing six feet, one inch and tipping the scales at 220 pounds has attended Sul Ross the past school semester and will report for fall workouts three months from now. His crew cut and well-coordinated manner is typical of the conditioned athlete of today.

His experience as a three year football letterman and two year baseball letterman at first base will carry over in his college career. His scholarship requires him to participate in two sports, his second choice being baseball. Last year's Sul Ross squad recorded a 7-3 won - lost record. And the team is expected to boast a more powerful array of talent this year. Hoelscher will be under the direction of coaches David Slaughter and Joe King.

Unlike the majority of college athletes, Paul isn't a physical education major. As he puts it, "P. E. Majors are a dime a dozen. I'm majoring in history and will be prepared to coach and teach when I graduate."

Teenage Bowlers Complete Season, Alley Oops Win

The Guys and Dolls Bowling League would up their season last week with the Alley Oops capturing first place by a slim one-game margin over the Hot Rods.

The Alley Oops posted a 51 - 21 won - lost record during the season. The second place Hot Rods won 50 and lost 22 while the Flintstones came in third with a 38-34 record.

Bob Dymke and Albert Horelica tied for the leagues leading bowlers honors, both with 146 averages; however Dymke won by knocking down a total of 7,903 pins to Horelica's 4,836.

The final week's individual honors were scattered. The Alley Oops brought in a first place series of 2,341 and a third place game of 818.

The Yogi's were second in both categories with 2,337 series and an 831 game. The Hot Rods rolled the week's high game of 832 and the third high series of 2,333.

Bob Dymke rolled a high 514 three game series and 185 game.

Eugene Taylor rolled a 430 series and Jane Monroe a 407 series. Gerry Zolt rolled a 159 game and Trip Stroupe a 151.

CAMERON HERALD VIEW ON SPORTS

— WITH ROBERT MANN —

By Robert Mann
I've been a little reluctant, as have other Yoemen fans, to fully accept Billy Bates weight - lifting program installed at Yoe High for the school's athletic mid - way through the school year.

Until a closer observance of the facts are taken (and they never lie) there is always room for optimism of any new idea.

A former member of Bates's coaching staff didn't approve of the weight program for certain athletes basketball specialists, sprinters, and hurdlers.

A bare look at the facts however tells the truth and the results of the weight lifters. Over a period of about five months, since the boys have been lifting weights, a change can be detected in the shape and stamina of most of the boys.

The best examples of this are boys like senior - to - be, Chris Gay. An all - district guard at 152 pounds, he now weighs 167. I might add that these extra pounds are not the result of winter time loafing since most of these boys are participants in all sports.

Bobby Hillman, six foot tackle has gone from 160 to 181 pounds since the close of football season and his massive arms are the result of his weight lifting. Another all - districter, Ernest Bayer, has picked up 9 pounds of hard muscle, going from 188 to 197.

On the other hand, Eugene Schattler, labeled as "great" by his gridiron teammates has lost 10 pounds, going from a flabby 192 to a sleek, 182. Craig Wallace sophomore expected to carry his share of the load next year has gained 4 pounds and weighs in at 149.

Amos Doskocil, speedy backfielder has gone from 139 pounds to 152. Average weight gained among the boys is 12 pounds.

VOS
In discussing next year's football possibilities with Bates at this early date there are still a lot of ifs that will be weeded out about three months from now.

A number of newcomers will grace the lineup. Carroll Richter, 160, Thomas Leonard, 160, James Anderle, 150, and Billy Hawkes, 140 all seniors may come into their own after beating around the bush with their potential athletic abilities the past three years.

Cub Scouts Hold Monthly Meeting

Cub Scout pack 212 held their monthly pack meeting Tuesday night at the city park.

A picnic lunch and olympic events highlighted the night for the youngsters.

Here are the results of the olympic events according to Mrs. Don Humble, den mother. The first three names are the older age groups and the second three are younger.

Pushups - 1. Johnny Mann, 2. Douglas Marburger, 3. Monty Humble; 1. Van Eanes, 2. Charles McAtee, 3. Jerry Richardson.

Broad Jump - 1. Richard Schiller, 2. Douglas Marburger, 3. Ralph Cannon; 1. Charles McAtee, 2. Larry Richardson, 3. Van Eanes.

Report From The Confederacy

Virginia Invaded; Armies Meet At Manassas Gap

By Robert Stonedale

FAIRFAX COURTHOUSE - Virginia, May 28, 1861 - Advance elements of the huge Northern army moved out of Washington three days ago and occupied Virginia territory on the west bank of the Potomac river. Operating in great secrecy, the Federals seized the home of Brigadier General Robert E. Lee at Arlington. At the same time a New York regiment entered the town of Alexandria and drove out a handful of Virginia militiamen. Several casualties occurred during the advance.

The Union troops are now throwing up breastworks and gun emplacements to shield the Federal capitol from Confederate attack.

Virginia authorities are rapidly dispatching partly trained and equipped regiments to this area in an attempt to assemble sufficient force to oppose the Northern invasion. There are no immediate plans for recapturing the positions seized during the Federal advance, which halted a short distance beyond the river.

Supplies Captured

The Federals have not made a similar advance against the Confederate force posted at Harpers Ferry farther west. Earlier this week Colonel Thomas Jackson blocked the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad east and west of the border town and captured 54 locomotives and more than 300 cars. Hundreds of tons of badly needed supplies were taken in the operation.

Brigadier General Joseph E. Johnston arrived at Harpers Ferry with reinforcements three days ago and as senior officer, has taken command of the district which includes 9000 troops; about 1000 of them unarmed.

If the Federals resume their advance in northern Virginia, they are expected to strike at the junction of the Manassas Gap railroad and the range and Alexandria line. The loss of Manassas Junction would be a major blow and it is known that the War Department is planning to move a large number of troops here within the next week.

Another serious threat may be developing near the Ohio River line where a 20,000 man Federal army is reported to be moving into western Virginia.

The public has welcomed the news that President Davis will arrive here tomorrow to take charge of affairs. It is hoped that the Government's new location near the seat of danger will bring some order out of the mass confusion.

Mrs. Garrett Hosts Davilla HD Club

The Davilla Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Ray Garrett for a call meeting with six members and one new member Mrs. David Ragan present.

Roll call was answered by a recipe exchange. A report on the THDA Luncheon was given by the four who attended, Mrs. Jack Stewart, Mrs. H. T. Walker, Mrs. Lester Davis and Mrs. T. N. Hine.

Each member present took their share of the greeting cards.

that is presently attending the war effort.

Command Criticized

Regiments have arrived in Virginia without their commanders, and with no certain orders concerning their destination. District commanders have been forced to organize brigades from scratch elements of infantry and cavalry with an occasional artillery battery thrown in. In several instances Virginia military authorities have been forced to issue orders dispatching troops from other States to the borders in the absence of Confederate directives.

While it is perhaps unfair to level criticism at a government that has been attempting to organize administrative machinery for an entire nation almost overnight, it has been obvious that a much improved system of command will be required if the mélange of militia companies is to be transformed into a modern army.

President Davis is certain to bring his great experience in army administration and military affairs to bear on this problem. If the longed-for transformation does not take place before the Federals solve their similar problems, Virginia is doomed.

This cotton pest is hard to see, but its damage isn't. Deformed leaves, whiplike terminal growth and reduced fruit set are characteristic of fleahopper infestation.

Winged adults and wingless young fleahoppers are extremely active. They both drain sap from tender parts of cotton plants, primarily terminal buds and small squares. Many tiny squares can be killed and fall from the plant before other damage signs become evident.

Good farming practices help prevent fleahopper problems. Every fall adults lay eggs in weeds near cotton fields. Effective field cleanup and weed control cuts down on spring hatches.

When cotton is tender, fleahoppers move in from nearby weedy areas, usually about April. Greatest damage is reported in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. In some years, other states are hard hit too. Rainy weather favors this pest, which continues to attack cotton as long as it remains succulent.

Fleahopper populations can build fast. Entomologists recommend early control with insecticides to stop this profit-robbing insect. During 1960, cotton growers found that a new pesticide, called Sevin, provided excellent fleahopper control even in areas where some older materials were not giving satisfactory results. This new insecticide is a carbamate and is chemically different from phosphates, arsenicals and chlorinated hydrocarbons. It combines high toxicity to insects with less hazard to field workers who apply it as dust or spray.

Production economy is important to maintain cotton profits. Entomologists favor using a broad-range insecticide early in the season. That way, all major cotton pests can be controlled with fewer applications before they can do much damage to the crop.

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

Earl Golding, the prolific outdoors writer from Waco, makes some interesting observations.

The columnist, notes that there seems to be a "pattern" of lake fishing, employed by anglers fishing the different lakes in Texas.

Once you stop to think about it, fishing styles do follow a trend and these tendencies vary in different sections of the state. Lake Travis fishermen, for example, employ methods quite unlike those used on Falcon. Fishing on Lake Belton differs from that on either Travis or Falcon.

Earl's research reveals that fishermen from the same town often fish alike. They sort of have their own trademark.

It's very likely a case of "follow the eluder, -- or copying the ideas of the most successful anglers. Exhibit 'A' could well be the fast growing popularity of jig and eel fishing on Lake Buchanan, for example.

When a certain type of lure, or a certain type of gear, or a certain method of taking fish from their habitat "clicks" with an angler, he's likely to stick with it religiously. Only person who can change that pattern is a more successful fisherman.

That's when styles change! That's when even the better fishermen adopt a new method. And if it does prove more productive -- man, most everybody switches to it -- whatever it may be.

Golding's studies of the various fishermen, their habits, likes and dislikes and their method of fishing, enables him to tell where an angler habitually fishes.

If you meet a tall fellow sitting atop his gasoline powered outboard motor and working his troll motor with his foot -- he's a Lake Austin fisherman. This motor - riding procedure is an Austin trademark.

See a fellow with a cushion on his big outboard, riding it like a saddle, and you can figure he stands a mighty good chance of being from the capital city.

On Belton, if you see a spin fisherman, you can almost be sure he's from Temple, as Temple is about the only town around the lake with an abundance of spinners. Most of the other boys are strictly casters.

And, if you see a guy with his troll motor on the front of his boat, and him sitting in one of those little low - hanging swivel chairs, out over the bow and just inches off the water, you know he's from Waco.

Nearly all the plug fishermen from Waco consider the chairs standard equipment.

All this just goes to show you that fishermen are different. They differ in both their ways and their means of fishing.

"If you're a good fisherman, you won't laugh at any of them," says Golding -- referring also to the flat - bottomed boats the Wacoans use; and the bigger, broader, higher craft used by the Austin boys -- because a good fisherman knows that he can learn something by observing others.

Ray Creel, one of Waco's top

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jungmann and son Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Hollas, Joan, Melvin and Leon and Sharon Schneider attended the commencement exercises Sunday night for Bernard Jungmann and Kenneth Hollas at Blinn College.

fishermen, who moved to Zapata a few years ago, learned some new tricks when it comes to fishing Falcon Lake.

He discovered that when the weather was cold and the wind was high the fish went to the bottom and gathered around the thorny huisache (see - satch) shrubbery.

To get to the fish you had to glide along side one of the trees, wrap a towel around the huisache bush's thorns, then pull up. Next you dropped a plastic worm down into the water, right alongside the tree -- to the very bottom -- then jigged the worm.

If no success at that spot you'd try another tree.

So, from these various versions it's quite evident that the way to success in fishing the numerous lakes in Texas -- as Scribe Golding points out -- is to follow this rule: "When in Rome, fish as the Romans do!"

Rain Came At Critical Time

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

We were right down to the line with the feed crops in Milam county and nothing short of rain could have relieved the situation. After going two months without rain, feed crops could not have survived the hot weather just ahead. In fact, this column is predicting that corn fields in Milam county will be 35 to 50 percent reduced due to the unfavorable moisture conditions.

Lack of grass for cattle and prospects for a short hay crop were causing no little concern with livestock men. We normally have a seasonal adjustment in our grazing for cattle at this time of the year as the cool season grasses go out and bermuda grass comes in. Temporary pastures of sudan grass are usually planted in April and May to relieve the permanent grass pastures. The lack of rains in April and May cut out potential hay crops by 50 percent, with the help of an unusually heavy grasshopper infestation. Improved moisture conditions will relieve this situation.

Fast Recovery Expected
On the bright side of the agricultural picture, cotton should be a profitable crop even though a sizeable acreage of cotton was to be planted after the rain. Due to the lack of moisture during April and May, seedling grass and weeds have been a lesser problem in cotton. Then too, cotton is a "dry weather" crop once the tap root is well established in subsoil moisture. This column predicts a profitable cotton crop for Milam county barring adverse conditions.

Still Time To Make Hay Crops
Grass meadows could produce two cuttings of hay and late planted Hegari has ample time to produce excellent forage to assure continued livestock investments.

Psychological Effects Most Important

Rains at such a critical time brightens the outlook for everyone. You have heard a good rain referred to as a "million dollar" rain. Such statements are the result of a renewed faith and ego in future prospects. Frankly, the mental attitude of our people received a great boost from the rains.

Chamberlain, Moore Receive Degrees

COLLEGE STATION — The following students from Cameron received their baccalaureate degrees from Texas A & M College at the May 27 graduation:

Homer T. Chamberlain, animal husbandry and Franklin D. Moore electrical engineering.

Lightning Rods Can Save Money

COLLEGE STATION — A metal covered building without adequate grounding is not protected against lightning. W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, says that proper grounding of such buildings, especially metal roofed structures, will prevent many fires.

Lightning protection is very inexpensive and easy to provide, Allen continues. All buildings with metal roofs or sides can be protected by grounding the roof at all four corners. This can be done by flattening the end of a piece of 1/2 or 3/4 inch galvanized iron or steel pipe and bending it so that it may be attached by bolts to the drip edge of the roof. For support, galvanized steel screw hooks should be placed on the side of the building and bent shut over the pipe.

After the pipe has been firmly attached to the roof, it may then be attached by galvanized wire rope clamps to a 1/2 or 3/4 inch pipe driven eight to ten feet into the ground. This ground pipe should be placed as close as possible to the buildings foundation Allen explains.

These lightning rods may not be as fancy as those of grandpa's day, but they serve the same purpose of property protection and fire prevention. Their installation could save you a great deal of money by preventing lightning damage, Allen concludes.

PULLET MANAGERMENTS

For all practical purposes, managing pullets in the range differs very little from confinement management, says Joe Wakefield of the Poultry Science Department at Texas A & M College.

Daily Care Of Hogs Pays Off

COLLEGE STATION — Most everyone has heard the fable of the tortoise and the hare, but many people have realized the truth in this tale? Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, believes that livestock producers, especially hog growers, can learn from the patient turtle.

The swine producer who leaps hare - like for the bottle of "wonder - drug" when his hogs are ill fall way behind the thorough, patient husbandman who has followed a program of disease and parasite prevention.

True, day to day attention to details which insure the health of a swine herd is not very spectacular, but it is far and away better than reliance on drugs, says Patterson. Treatment alone does not provide the complete answer to the problem of profitable swine production.

An effective health program for swine must, Patterson advises, provide a clean healthy environment, prevent exposure of animals to disease - producing agents, provide for early detection and identification of diseases and parasites, provide for early treatment selected and applied on the basis of diagnosis, and include accurate and complete records.

Information On Peace Corps Told

COLLEGE STATION — The Peace Corps, which came into being on March 1, 1961 with the issuance of an Executive Order by President Kennedy, is in operation. Applications are being accepted.

The Corps, according to V. G. Young, state agricultural agent for the Texas Extension Service, represents an opportunity for individual citizens to work directly with people of other countries to provide economic, social or educational assistance and to further the cause of peace through personal relationships and the development of mutual understanding.

He adds there is much similarity between the Corps and the International Farm Youth Exchange which has been a part of the 4-H Club program in the nation since 1949. This interest in such programs has brought local county extension service agents into the picture says Young.

The agents now have sufficient information on the program, according to Young, to answer most questions from interested persons. Young advises persons interested in getting more information and the details on how the Corps will operate to contact the local county office.

Spray Trees To Protect Pecans

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

A good crop of pecans are set on native and improved varieties throughout Milam county. Many producers are interested in spraying their trees to protect against the small worm that causes extensive damage to the pecan crop. It will pay to spray if done at the right time and the right materials are used.

Entomologist C. F. Garner at A & M College, was contacted this week, May 15, about the right time to spray and he had this to say: "It is a little too early for our area to be seeing eggs on the tips of the small pecans." "As a guess, I would suspect that you could find casebearer eggs on the tips of the nuts by the latter part of this week, May 19th."

WHAT TO USE — Toxaphene-DDT mix with Parathion added gives both a residual spray with the parathion added for a "Quick kill".

For small amounts, use 1 tablespoon of Toxaphene, 1 tablespoon DDT and 1 teaspoon of Parathion to a gallon of water.

For larger amounts use 2 lbs of actual DDT, 4 lbs of actual Toxaphene and 1 lb of parathion to each 100 gallons of water.

June Workshop At College Station

By Frances H. Johnson
Milam Home Demonstration Agent

Plans are being made to conduct a non - credit floriculture workshop at A & M College in June. The two - day workshop will be June 22-23, with the program starting at 10 a. m., June 22 and ending at 3 p. m., June 23.

This workshop will include a study of landscape plants for Texas gardens, flower gardening, fundamentals, pest control, plant propagation, pruning ornamental plants, plants in the home
